

Get to Know Benjamin Fishman

School information

Hello, my name is Benjamin Fishman and I am currently a finance major here at UNR. I graduate in spring 2027 (hopefully) and I want to go into investment banking/wealth management ideally. In terms of computers ive never been great but I am pretty good with excel due to the statistics classes ive taken which taught me to use advanced formulas in excel to find certain datasets with that exception I do not have any real skills with any specific software

Backround and hobbies

I am from Las Vegas and was never a great student in high school so I did not intent to go to college however my mom convinced me to apply to one school and recommended UNR since it was in state but not in Las Vegas and I agreed to apply then ended up deciding to go. One dream I have is moving to New York for work and getting a super clean and simple looking apartment. I have always been drawn to clean simple designs especially in houses and watches. My favorite pass time has always been sports specifically soccer and basketball, my dream growing up was always to play professional soccer but when I was younger I would always be playing a sport I didnt care what it was and my favorite player will always be Cristiano Ronaldo.
